17 Sep 2013 To cultivate the role of this initiative among the other programs, there are also some difficulties to be overcome. First, the mutual understanding among the various local bodies in handling the control program, which is one of the main difficulties to be overcome, is an important condition for the success of this control program. The result of the first pilot program is an example. Haematological and Oncological Diseases, Hematology, Pathology, and Laboratory Medicine: A Clinical & Therapeutic Neurophysiology: Applied Neurophysiology. ВЂњNew satellite programs (e.g., Satellite-2) are cost-effective; resources for development and conduct of the satellite programs are allocated through the negotiations between the delegating countries. However, because of the fact that different countries do not have equal resources, frequent disagreements arise concerning the realization of satellite programs. This may result in the failure of some satellite programs and delays in the establishment of new ones.ВЂњInternational programs are needed for non-profit humanitarian purposes (e.g., a project to build a water pipe for a town in Iran). However, to be effective, these programs must be implemented in conjunction with other international programs and, in particular, they have to complement the activities of the United Nations Development Fund for Women (UNIFEM). If the new program does not take into account the existing programs, the results achieved by the project may be weak.ВЂњ

Most of the international programs are linked to the United Nations, and the Organization's head of Delegation informs the co-sponsors of the international projects. In addition, this may result in additional costs or complications in the assessment of the project.

Preparation of a program is a time-consuming process: it requires collaboration with various UN agencies, co-sponsors, and other project partners, as well as the assistance of a staff of specialists, such as attorneys, consultants, and expert communicators; he wrote. 1cb139a0ed
