LibObject was first available in AutoCAD, and was upgraded to AutoCAD LT. LibObject is also included in AutoCAD 2009 as standard. This is a Microsoft Component Object Model (COM) based library. LibObject was designed to allow a third party (not AutoCAD itself) to write their own custom commands for AutoCAD. These commands are then "pasted" into the design environment.

LibARM Automation Runtime Engine Architecture (ARENA) Library is a collection of functions that allow AutoCAD to connect to other software or hardware. LibARM is based on COM and provides a bridge between the external system and AutoCAD.
