How can I provide this file? So what happen? A: Did you ever try to download this file? From what I understand, you want to provide other users with the information you found here. You could try to download the file from the website and save it to your computer, before you share it with people. If this does not work, another option could be to post the link to the file from your website, which would allow others to download it if they want to. I don't have your website, and it's not clear what the file is so I don't know if this would actually be a good idea. Obama: What Has Congress Done? The state of the union is the issue that often eats away at Obama: Will he be able to avoid making the politically fatal mistake that so many presidents have before him? Will he be able to avoid making the politically fatal mistake that so many presidents have before him? Obama has been gearing up for the speech even before he takes office, talking about the state of the union and how he expects things to change. He is certain to tout his record, criticize Republicans for, in his opinion, failing to cooperate with the president, and - because it is election year - offer a political stump speech that will focus on what he would like to see in a second term, and what he would like to do with a second term. But as Obama prepares to take office in January, he'll do so with a very different leadership team: he's leaving the Senate, leaving the House, leaving Capitol Hill, and he'll be surrounded by people he appointed. Obama is acutely aware of the pressure he's under. After all, he's being his own best spokesman. But if he wants to put his stamp on the state of the union, he's got a lot to play with in 2009. Where Do the Tides Turn? If Obama were to put forward something that united the country, it would make a lot of sense to watch the Democratic base and see if they would support it. For all of the conversation about marginalizing the Republican Party, Democrats have a stronger and more fertile base. And polls suggest that Obama already has the support of his own party. In a Pew Research survey conducted last month, Obama won the support of 91% of Democrats, nearly 6 in 10 of independent voters and a full 82% of Republican voters. In
