Key Features.1000+ Music Scrobbles Together to Help Your Song to Take off So Much Music Scrobbles has organized a push to donate traffic to a song, with the purpose of boosting it to the top of the charts. The group is stating that the site they are going to rely on for traffic will not be able to donate all the traffic at once. So if you don't get near the top in a given hour, you may have to wait a while. They are working to collect songs that they believe have a higher than average chance of success, such as ballads or pop ballads. The music that is marked as successful is then passed on to the next campaign. If a song is successfully scrobbled, it will get an automatic up vote, regardless of the vote count of the user that scrobbled it.[Screening of new antifungal active compounds from marine-derived actinomycetes and the isolation and identification of producing strain]. A total of 100 isolates of marine actinomycetes were isolated from deep sea sediments by solid state fermentation. Then the isolates were subjected to activity screening against 10 clinical pathogens, and antifungal activity of positive strains was characterized with broth dilution method and the antifungal spectrum tested against 14 fungal species. Among the 100 isolates, 11 strains showed antimicrobial activity, including seven strains exhibited inhibitory effects on Aspergillus flavus, and five strains showed antimicrobial activity against Aspergillus fumigatus. Based on the results of API 20E plate and ITS sequencing, two strains were identified as Streptomyces oligofermentans DSM 43776 and Streptomyces cinnamoneus DSM 43811 respectively. The positive strains Streptomyces oligofermentans DSM 43776 and Streptomyces cinnamoneus DSM 43811 were used as a host to obtain the active compounds by fermentation and extraction. The structure of bioactive compound was determined by spectroscopic methods including ^1H NMR, ^{13}C NMR,
